

ATI Community Health

Proctored Exam

Version-1

1. During a home health visit a school age child who has muscular dystrophy confides in the nurse that he was struck by his parents. which of the following actions should the nurse take first?

1. report the incident to local authorities
- 2. check the child for injuries
3. refer the parent to a social service agency
4. enroll the parent in anger management classes.

2. a nurse is planning a program about healthy eating at an elementary school where most students select French fries and pizza at lunch every day. which of the following actions should the nurse plan to take first?

1. give positive feedback to students who make appropriate choices.
2. help students recognize the value of making healthy food choices
3. provide students with resources about making wise choices independently
- 4. determine student's motivation to learn about healthy food choices.

3. a nurse manager in local community health agency is creating a job description for a new nurse who will practice community oriented nursing. which of the following should the nurse include in the job description? (select all that apply)

- 1. investigate potential health and environmental issues
- 2. initiate support groups for parents of autistic children
3. provide wound care for clients in their homes

4. participate in local health surveillance activities

5. provide health related education to community groups

4. a community health nurse is planning an educational program for a group of women who are postmenopausal. which of the following outcomes is appropriate for this program?

1. clients will schedule bone density screening
2. clients will arrange for mammograms every 3 years
3. clients will start hormone replacement therapy
4. clients will significantly decrease caloric intake

5. a nurse is working with a care manager for a client who participates in a health maintenance organization. the nurse should identify that a health maintenance organization provides which of the following payment structures.

1. the client is participating in a fee for service health care insurance program
2. the provider is paid a fixed sum for the client on a monthly or yearly basis
3. the client pays the insurer a percentage of the total costs for each service rendered by the provider
4. the provider bills the client directly for a predetermined percentage of the cost of services

6. a client who has diabetes mellitus asks a home health nurse to help her adapt some of her traditional cultural foods to fit her meal plan. which of the following is the first action the nurse should take when assisting this client?

1. provide the client with a printed recipe
2. observe the client during preparation of traditional foods
3. use cookbooks to include traditional foods in meal plans

4. explain diabetes exchange list

7. a home health nurse manager is caring for a client who has methicillin resistant staphylococcus aureus. which of the following actions should the nurse take?

1. remove fresh flowers from the client's home
2. wear a mask when within 3 feet of the client
3. encourage the client to use a hepa filter in the house
4. double bag soiled dressing in polyethylene bags.

8. an occupational health nurse is discussing health promotion with a client who has a history of obesity. which of the following comments indicates the client is using rationalization as a coping mechanism?

1. i have lots of health problems from being obese
2. I am obese it's in my genes
3. i have difficulty resisting the items in vending machines
4. i know you don't like me because i am obese

9. a nurse is conducting a community assessment. which of the following information should the nurse include as part of the windshield survey?

1. demographic data
2. mortality rate
3. informant

interviews 4. housing

quality

10. a community health nurse is educating a parent about the importance of hepatitis B immunization. which of the following explanations should the nurse give the parent about the disease?

1. one dose of the immunization gives children lifelong protection from hepatitis B
2. hepatitis B spreads easily among children through casual contact
3. many people who acquire acute hepatitis B develop chronic hepatitis
4. people who have had a hepatitis B infection still need the immunization

11. a first response team is working at the location of a bombing incident. a nurse triaging a group of clients should give treatment priority to which of the following clients.

1. a client who has superficial partial thickness burn injuries over 5% of his body
2. a client who has a femur fracture with a 2+ pedal pulse
3. a client who is ambulatory and exhibits manic behavior
4. a client who has a rigid abdomen with manifestations of shock.

12. a nurse is working with a community health care team to devise strategies for preventing violence in the community. which of the following interventions is an example of tertiary prevention?

1. presenting community education programs about stress management
2. developing resources for victims of abuse
3. urging community leaders to make nonviolence a priority
4. assessing for risk factors of intimate partner abuse during health examinations

13. public health nurse take

1. alert the family members of coworkers about possible exposure to anthrax
2. place the employee under quarantine for 14 days
3. refer coworkers who might have been exposed to a provider for prophylactic antibiotics
4. instruct the client to wear a mask at work

14. a community health nurse is providing teaching to a group of clients who have alcohol use disorder. which of the following findings should the nurse include in the teaching as a manifestation of alcohol withdrawal?

1. bradycardia
2. hypothermia
3. increased appetite
4. insomnia

15. a nurse is caring for a client who is homeless. which of the following actions should the nurse take first?

1. determine the clients understanding of her living situation
2. assist the client to develop goals for obtaining shelter
3. discuss the risks of being homeless with the client
4. develop client teaching using a variety of strategies

16. a community health nurse observes the accumulation of garbage at a neighborhood playground. which of the following actions should the nurse take first to promote a clean and safe environment?

1. meet with community members to discuss methods of playground maintenance
2. partner city officials with community members to improve the playground condition
3. work with local businesses to sponsor more trash receptacles in the playground
4. engage neighborhood families to monitor the playground for further trash buildup

17. a nurse in a mobile health clinic is caring for a client who requires a tetanus immunization and is accompanied by his daughter. the client does not speak the same language as the nurse. which of the following actions should the nurse take?

1. have the client's daughter communicate information about the procedure
2. arrange for a member of the client's community to interpret the teaching
3. identify the clients spoken dialect prior to contacting an interpreter
4. use professional terminology when providing education prior to the procedure

18. a nurse at a local health department is caring for several clients. which of the following infections should the nurse report to the state health department?

1. chlamydia

2. herpes simplex virus

3. group B Streptococcus B hemolytic

4. human papillomavirus

19. a clinic nurse is assessing a client who has measles. which of the following findings should the nurse expect?

1. koplik spots inside the mouth

2. persistent low grade temperature

3. muscle aches and tenderness

4. rash confined to the trunk of the body

20. a community health nurse is planning a program for adolescents about preventing STIs. which of the following actions should the nurse take first?

1. collect data to identify barriers to learning
2. establish methods to evaluate program outcomes
3. obtain visual aids that feature adolescents
4. provide computer based education

21. a nurse is counseling a client who has a new diagnosis of chlamydia. which of the following information should the nurse include in the teaching? (select all that apply)

1. you should avoid sexual contact until therapy is complete
2. notify anyone with whom you have had sexual contact over the past 2 months
3. you will need to take an antiviral medication for 30 days
4. once your complete treatment you will have an acquired immunity against chlamydia
5. you might experience painful urination until the infection has resolved

22. a home health nurse is planning the initial home visit for a client who has dementia and lives with his adult son's family. which of the following actions should the nurse take first during the visit?

1. encourage the family to join a support group
2. provide the family with information about respite care
3. educate the family regarding the progression of dementia
4. engage the family in informal conversation

23. a parrish nurse is counseling a family following a client's recent diagnosis of heart disease. which of the following actions should the nurse takefirst?

1. discuss the benefits of eating a well-balanced diet with the client's family
2. assist the client and the clients partner with finding an affordable exercise program
3. offer to accompany the client and the clients partner during health care provider visits
4. ask family members about the impact of the disease on relationships within the family

24. a nurse is caring for a client who is having difficulty performing activities of daily living. the nurse is functioning in which of the following roles when arranging for an occupational therapist to visit the client.

1. Administrator
2. nurse
consultant
3. case
manager
4. clinician