119) A Statement of Cash Flows is required for which type of fund?

- A) Proprietary.
- B) Governmental.
- C) Fiduciary.
- D) None of the choices are correct.

120) GASB requires which of the following (if applicable) to be included in the Notes to Financial Statements?

- A) Outstanding encumbrances
- B) The definition of cash and cash equivalents used in the statement of cash flows for proprietary funds
- C) Interfund receivables and payables
- D) All of the choices are correct

121) GASB provides which method(s) for including component unit financial information with that of the primary government?

- A) Discrete Presentation
- B) Blending
- C) Both Discrete Presentation and Blending
- D) None of the choices are correct.

122) The modified approach for infrastructure requires schedules and disclosures to be included in which part of the CAFR?

- A) Notes to the Financial Statements
- B) Other Supplementary Information
- C) Required supplementary Information
- D) Proprietary Fund Statements

123) Which of the following is not true regarding the Statement of Cash Flows for proprietary funds?

- A) Four categories of cash flows are used.
- B) Interest and dividends received are recorded as investing activities.
- C) The direct method is required for reporting cash flows from operations.
- D) All of the choices are true statements.

124) Which of the following is true about the combining financial statements?

- A) They are used whenever a nonmajor column is used in one of the fund financial statements.
- B) The total column in the combining statements is not always the same as the nonmajor funds column in the basic financial statements.
- C) Both of the choices are true.
- D) Neither of the choices is true.

125) Which of the following funds require a Statement of Cash Flows?

- A) Governmental funds
- B) Proprietary funds
- C) Fiduciary Funds
- D) Governmental and Fiduciary Funds

126) With respect to Government-wide financial statements, which of the following is not required by GASB?

- A) Statement of Cash Flow
- B) Statement of Net Position
- C) Statement of Activities
- D) All of the choices are required by GASB

127) Which of the following is not one of the major sections of the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR)?

- A) Budgetary
- B) Financial
- C) Introductory
- D) Statistical

128) Which of the following indicates a governmental fund is considered to be a major fund?

- A) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of the individual governmental fund constitutes 10 percent of the governmental funds category.
- B) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures/expenses are 5 percent of the total of the governmental and enterprise category. Other funds may be designated major funds at the discretion of management.
- C) Both choices are required.
- D) Either of the choices will qualify a fund to be a major fund.

129) Which of the following is not correct with respect to reporting major funds?

- A) Any funds not reported separately are aggregated and reported in a single column under the label nonmajor funds.
- B) A government may designate any fund as a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.
- C) The general fund is not classified as a major fund if it does not meet the 10% and 5% tests for a major fund.
- D) If the reporting government is preparing a complete CAFR, a schedule showing the detail of nonmajor funds is provided in the other supplementary information section.

130) GASB provides guidance for determining when a primary government should include a legally separate organization in its financial report. What would be required for the primary government to include the related entity in its financial reports?

- A) A. The primary government controls a voting majority of the other organization's governing board or otherwise may impose its will on the organization.
- B) B. The other organization is fiscally dependent upon the primary government.
- C) C. The related organization must represent a financial benefit or burden to the primary government.
- D) D. Either A or B plus C choice would be sufficient to require inclusion.

SHORT ANSWER. Write the word or phrase that best completes each statement or answers the question.

131) Identify three items often found in Required Supplementary Information.

132) List the Government-wide financial statements required by GASB.

133) List the fund financial statements required by GASB for governmental type funds.

134) List the fund financial statements required by GASB for proprietary type funds.

135) List the basic financial statements required by GASB for fiduciary type funds.

136) In addition to government-wide statements, governments are required to prepare fund financial statements within which three categories of funds?

137) What are the five categories of fund balance on a Governmental Funds Balance Sheet?

138) List the five categories outlined in GASB to be included in the statistical section of the CAFR.

139) List and describe the three major sections of the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report and indicate briefly what is in each.

140) What is the rule for determining whether a governmental fund, other than the General Fund, is a major fund?

141) Identify two areas where GASB requires supplementary information (RSI).

142) The Governmental Accounting Standards Board has established rules for determining when a government should include another entity in its financial statements.

1. Distinguish between a primary government and a component unit. Include one example of each.

2. GASB permits two methods of reporting component units in the financial reporting entity. Describe the two methods and indicate when each should be used.

3. The City of X is deciding whether or not to include a transit system in its financial report and how the transit system would be reported if a positive decision were made. The transit system is a legally separate entity, has its own governing board, not appointed by the city, has a different auditor, and issues its own financial report. The city has signed an agreement that, for the next ten years (the life of a bond issue related to transit operations), and it will make up the deficit of the transit system. During the last two years, the deficit has been $10 million, approximately 50% of the amount reported as a profit of its other enterprise operations. Make recommendations to the city, including whether or not to include the transit system and, if so, how to report it.

143) GASB establishes that the financial reporting entity is the primary government together with its component units. Define primary government and component unit.

144) GASB provides guidance for determining when a primary government should include a legally separate organization in its financial report. Outline the criteria for inclusion.

ESSAY. Write your answer in the space provided or on a separate sheet of paper.

145) The following information is available for the preparation of the government-wide financial statements of the City of Bloomfield as of June 30, 2020:

Accounts payable, business-type activities	$ 240,000

Answer Key

Test name: Unnamed Test2

1) TRUE

The CAFR has three major sections; introductory which includes MD&A, financial which includes basic financial statements, RSI other than MD&A, combining and individual fund statements and narrative explanations, and the statistical section.

2) TRUE

The CAFR has three major sections; introductory, financial and statistical.

3) FALSE

The introductory and statistical sections of a CAFR are not audited.

4) TRUE

State and local governments are encouraged, but not required, to prepare a CAFR.

5) TRUE

A complete CAFR presents combining statements to reflect its nonmajor funds whenever a nonmajor column is used in one of the fund statements.

6) TRUE

A complete CAFR presents combining statements to reflect its nonmajor funds whenever a nonmajor column is used in one of the fund statements.

7) TRUE

In addition to the government-wide statement, governments are required to prepare fund-level financial statements within the three categories of funds: governmental, proprietary and fiduciary.

8) FALSE

In addition to the government-wide statement, governments are required to prepare fund-level financial statements within the three categories of funds: governmental, proprietary and fiduciary.

9) FALSE

In addition to the government-wide statement, governments are required to prepare fund-level financial statements and are required to present separate columns for each major fund. The general fund is considered a major fund for reporting purposes.

10) FALSE

Governmental funds, other than the general fund, are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions are met: 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined.

11) FALSE

A government may designate any fund as a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

12) TRUE

The general fund is always a major fund and a fund is considered to be a major fund if certain criteria are met. In addition, governments may designate any other fund to be a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

13) TRUE

Any funds not reported separately are aggregated and reported in a single column under the label nonmajor funds. A schedule showing the detail of nonmajor funds is provided in the other supplementary information section.

14) FALSE

Any funds not reported separately are aggregated and reported in a single column under the label nonmajor funds. A schedule showing the detail of nonmajor funds is provided in the other supplementary information section.

15) FALSE

Fiduciary funds use the economic resources measurement focus and accrual accounting. Fiduciary funds do not have revenues or expenses, rather they have additions and deductions.

16) FALSE

Governmental funds are prepared using the economic resources measurement focus and accrual basis accounting.

17) FALSE

The primary government can be a state government, a general-purpose local government such as a city or county, or a special purpose government such as a school district.

18) TRUE

Blending is appropriate when the component unit is so intertwined with the primary government that they are in substance the same entity.

19) FALSE

The purpose of the statistical section of the CAFR is to provide historical information and additional detail to help the financial statement user better understand and assess a government's economic condition.

20) FALSE

Fiduciary funds are not included in the government-wide financial statements.

21) FALSE

The basic financial statements consist of the government-wide, the governmental fund, the proprietary fund, and the fiduciary fund financial statements (and the notes to the financial statements).

22) FALSE

Governmental-type fund financial statements include the Balance Sheet, Statement of Revenues, Expenditures and Changes in Fund Balances and the Reconciliation of governmental statements to government-wide statements. Statement of Cash Flows is not required.

23) TRUE

Governmental-type fund financial statements include the Balance Sheet, Statement of Revenues, Expenditures and Changes in Fund Balances and the Reconciliation of governmental statements to government-wide statements. Statement of Cash Flows is not required.

24) TRUE

In addition to the government-wide statement, governments are required to prepare fund-level financial statements. Because governments may have many governmental funds and proprietary funds, governments are only required to present separate columns for each major fund. The general fund is always considered to be a major fund.

25) TRUE

The fund balance reported in the Governmental Funds Balance Sheet must be reconciled to the net position of governmental activities in the Statement of Net Position. These amounts differ because the two statements have different bases of accounting and because most internal service funds are included in the governmental activities column on the government-wide statements.

26) FALSE

GASB Codification Sec. 21 establishes that the financial reporting entity is the primary government together with its component units. GASB standards provide two methods for including component unit financial information with that of the primary government; blending and discrete presentation.

27) FALSE

Government-wide statements are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the economic resources measurement focus.

28) TRUE

Government-wide financial statements include the Government-wide Statement of Net Position and the Government-wide Statement of Activities. The Statement of Cash Flows is not a required statement.

29) FALSE

Prior year data, typically 10 years, is presented with the statistical section of the CAFR and is optional.

30) FALSE

Governmental fund statements use the modified accrual basis of accounting and the current financial resources measurement focus.

31) TRUE

Fiduciary funds use the economic resource measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting. Activity accounts are labeled additions and deductions rather than revenues and expenses.

32) TRUE

Governments are required to present separate columns for each major fund. The general fund is always considered to be a major fund for reporting purposes.

33) TRUE

Notes to the financial statements must distinguish between the primary government and discretely presented component units.

34) TRUE

General purpose governments engaged in both governmental and business type activities prepare governmental fund, proprietary fund and government-wide financial statements.

35) FALSE

Component units may appear in governmental, proprietary or fiduciary type financial statements. Governmental fund statements include separate columns for each major fund. Any funds not reported separately are aggregated and reported in a single column under the label nonmajor funds. When it is determined that an organization is a component unit and must be included in the financial report of a primary government, it can use one of two methods; blending and discrete presentation. Most commonly, separate columns are used to present component units.

36) FALSE

The statistical section is optional.

37) FALSE

Fiduciary activities are not included in the government-wide statements.

38) TRUE

MD&A is part of the required supplementary information required in the financial section of the CAFR.

39) TRUE

Government-wide statements are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the economic resources measurement focus.

40) FALSE

Government-wide statements are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the economic resources measurement focus.

41) TRUE

Prior year data may be presented, but it is not required.

42) FALSE

Prior year data may be presented, but it is not required.

43) TRUE

Proprietary funds are the only funds that report a Statement of Cash Flows. GASB requires governments to prepare cash flows from operating activities using the direct method.

44) TRUE

The CAFR has three major sections: introductory, financial and statistical.

45) FALSE

The general fund is always a major fund and a fund is considered to be a major fund if certain criteria are met. In addition, governments may designate any other fund to be a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

46) FALSE

The CAFR has three major sections: introductory, financial and statistical.

47) FALSE

The fund balance reported in the Governmental Funds Balance Sheet must be reconciled to the net position of governmental activities in the Statement of Net Position. These amounts differ because the two statements have different bases of accounting and because most internal service funds are included in the governmental activities column on the government-wide statements.

48) TRUE

The excess of assets and deferred outflows over liabilities and deferred inflows is labeled fund balance, an account title used only in governmental funds.

49) FALSE

GASB Codification Sec. 21 establishes that the financial reporting entity is the primary government together with its component units. GASB standards provide two methods for including component unit financial information with that of the primary government; blending and discrete presentation.

50) FALSE

Proprietary funds are the only funds that report a Statement of Cash Flows. GASB requires governments to prepare cash flows from operating activities using the direct method.

51) TRUE

The MD&A is not audited.

52) TRUE

Fiduciary funds are not included in the government-wide statements.

53) FALSE

Prior year data, typically 10 years, is presented with the statistical section of the CAFR and is optional.

54) FALSE

All governmental type funds, including permanent fund, are included in the government-wide statements.

55) FALSE

Internal service funds are proprietary funds and are most commonly included in the government-wide statements.

56) FALSE

Proprietary fund statements and government-wide statements both use accrual accounting.

57) FALSE

In addition to the government-wide statement, governments are required to prepare fund-level financial statements within the three categories of funds; governmental, proprietary and fiduciary.

58) A

Proprietary funds include the Statement of Net Position, Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Fund Net Position, and Statement of Cash Flows.

59) D

Fiduciary fund statements use accrual accounting and the economic resources measurement focus. Fiduciary funds prepare the Statement of Net Position and the Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Position.

60) A

RSI includes MD&A, information about infrastructure, budgetary comparison schedule, funding schedules, schedules required for external financing pools, pension schedules and schedules of risk management activities. Notes to the financial statements are required and not part of RSI.

61) D

RSI includes MD&A, information about infrastructure, budgetary comparison schedule, funding schedules, schedules required for external financing pools, pension schedules and schedules of risk management activities.

62) C

The excess of assets and deferred outflows over liabilities and deferred inflows is labeled fund balance, an account title used only in governmental funds.

63) D

In addition to the government-wide statement, governments are required to prepare fund-level financial statements within the three categories of funds; governmental, proprietary and fiduciary.

64) C

The CAFR has 3 main sections; introductory, financial and statistical. A budgetary comparison schedule is required of the General Fund and each major special revenue fund that has a legally adopted budget.

65) A

The government-wide statements are the Government-wide statement of Net Position and the Government-wide Statement of Activities.

Government-wide statements are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and the economic resources measurement focus.

66) A

In addition to the governmental activities and business-type activities, information is presented in a separate column for the government's discretely presented component units. The difference between assets and liabilities is called net position and is reported in three categories; Net investment in capital assets, Restricted net position and Unrestricted net position.

67) C

The general fund is always considered to be a major fund. Other governmental funds are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions exist; 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined. In addition, a government may designate any fund as a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

68) C

The general fund is always considered to be a major fund. Other governmental funds are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions exist; 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined. In addition, a government may designate any fund as a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

69) D

The general fund is always considered to be a major fund. Other governmental funds are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions exist; 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined. In addition, a government may designate any fund as a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

70) B

When preparing fund basis financial statements, any funds not reported separately are aggregated and reported in a single column under the label non-major funds.

71) B

Governmental fund statements are prepared using the current financial resources measurement focus and the modified accrual basis of accounting.

72) D

The total fund balances presented in Governmental Funds Statements are different from the total Net Position on the government-wide Statement of Net Position because the two statements have different bases of accounting and because most internal service funds are included in the governmental activities column on the government-wide statements. Capital assets used in governmental operations are not financial resources and therefore not reported in the funds. Some liabilities are not due and payable in the current period and are not reported in fund balances. Accrued wages payable at year end are reported in both.

73) D

GASB Section 2100 establishes that the financial reporting entity is the primary government together with its component units. The primary government can be a state government, a general-purpose local government, or a special-purpose government. Blending is used to incorporate component units when the component unit is so intertwined with the primary government that they are in substance the same entity.

74) A

Component units are more commonly reported using discrete presentation rather than blended. Government-wide statements report governmental and business activities which comprise the primary government. Similar information is presented in a separate column for the government's discretely presented component units. A school district can be a primary government.

75) B

Component units are more commonly reported using discrete presentation rather than blended. Government-wide statements report governmental and business activities which comprise the primary government. Similar information is presented in a separate column for the government's discretely presented component units. A school district can be a primary government.

76) A

The CAFR has three major sections: introductory, financial and statistical.

77) C

MD&A is part of RSI. MD&A does not take the place of footnotes. GASB requires eight specific items that must be included one of which is an analysis of significant variations between original and final budget amounts and between final budget amounts and actual results for the General Fund.

78) D

GASB standards provide two methods for including component unit financial information: blending and discrete presentation. Counties can be a primary government. The financial reporting entity is the primary government together with its component units. Component units are legally separate organizations for which the primary government is financially accountable.

79) D

RSI includes MD&A, information required when using the modified approach to infrastructure, budgetary comparison schedule, pension schedules and schedules of risk management activities.

80) D

Prior year balances may be presented but are not required. Government-wide statements include the Statement of Net Position and the Statement of Activities. Statement of Cash Flows is not required. Capital assets are reported net of accumulated depreciation unless the modified approach is used for reporting infrastructure.

81) B

Governmental and business-type activities are totaled but component units are separately stated in the government-wide statements. Capital assets are reported net of accumulated depreciation for both governmental and business-type activities in the government-wide statements unless the modified approach is used for reporting infrastructure. The Statement of Net Position may be presented using the classified approach, but it is not required in the government-wide statements. Fiduciary activities are not included in the government-wide statements.

82) D

In the government-wide Statement of Activities, direct expenses are required to be reported by function. All taxes levied by the government, including those restricted to a particular purpose, are reported as general revenues. Although rarely done, governments may allocate indirect expenses to functions.

83) C

In the government-wide statements, “special items” are items within the control of management but which are unusual in nature or infrequent in occurrence. Transfers between governmental and business-type activities are displayed in the general revenues section and offset. All taxes levied by the government, including those restricted to a particular purpose, are reported as general revenues.

84) D

The governmental fund financial statements include the Balance Sheet, and the Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Changes in Fund Balances and are prepared on the current financial resources measurement focus and modified accrual basis of accounting. The excess of assets and deferred outflows over liabilities and deferred inflows is labeled fund balance for a governmental fund.

85) D

A) B) and C) would all appear in the reconciliation between governmental fund financial statements and the governmental activities column in the government-wide financial statements.

86) D

A budgetary comparison schedule includes the original budget, the final appropriated budget and the actual results computed on the same basis as the budget. The variance column is optional. The budgetary comparison schedule is required as part of RSI and is required for the General Fund and each major special fund that has a legally adopted budget.

87) D

All of statements are true. The General Fund is always a major fund. Each fund that is considered major must be reported in a separate column in the governmental funds financial statements. A government may designate any fund as major if it feels that reporting that fund in the basic financial statements would be useful.

88) A

The basic financial statements consist of the government-wide, the governmental fund, the proprietary fund, and the fiduciary fund financial statements (and the notes to the financial statements). The government-wide statements include the Statement of Net Position and the Statement of Activities.

89) D

Governmental funds, other than the general fund, are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions are met: 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined.

90) C

Governmental funds do not prepare a Statement of Cash Flows. Governmental funds are prepared using the current financial resources measurement focus and the modified accrual basis of accounting.

91) A

The proprietary fund financial statements include the Statement of Net Position, the Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Fund Net Position, and the Statement of Cash Flows. Proprietary funds include enterprise and internal service funds.

92) D

Fiduciary fund statements include the Statement of Fiduciary Net position, Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Position. The Statement of Cash Flows is not required for fiduciary funds. Fiduciary funds use the economic resources measurement focus and accrual accounting.

93) C

Governments have the option of reporting a budget comparison statement as part of the basic financial statements rather than the budgetary comparison schedule in the RSI. A budgetary comparison schedule is required for the General fund and each major special revenue fund that has a legally adopted budget.

94) A

Expenditures reported by function such as public safety, judicial administration and general government. Debt service is reported as interest or principle. Capital outlay and salaries are not function categories.

95) B

Community development, parks and recreation, and health and recreation would all be function categories. Capital outlay is not a function category.

96) C

The general fund is always considered to be a major fund. Governmental funds, other than the general fund, are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions are met: 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined.

97) B

Fund balance is displayed within the categories of nonspendable, restricted, committed, assigned and unassigned. Governmental funds include the General Fund, special revenue funds, capital projects funds, debt service funds, and permanent funds.

98) D

General revenues include tax revenues and those revenues that are not associated directly with a particular function or program. Service charges and program fees are revenues that can be directly associated with a particular function are deducted from the expenses for that function to arrive at a net expense or revenue.

99) C

The governmental fund statements are prepared using the current financial resources measurement focus and the modified accrual basis of accounting. For this reason, capital assets and long-term debt do not appear on the balance sheet. The Governmental Funds Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Changes in Fund Balances reports columns for each major fund, a column for the total non-major funds combined, and total column.

100) A

Component units are either blended and included in the financial statements of the primary government or presented in separate column on the government-wide statements using discrete presentation. Towns, school districts, counties, and municipalities would be primary governments.

101) A

Government-wide financial statements include the Government-wide Statement of Net Position and the Government-wide Statement of Activities. The Statement of Cash Flows is not required.

102) C

The governmental fund financial statements include the Balance Sheet and the Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Changes in Fund Balances which are prepared using the current financial resources measurement focus and the modified accrual basis of accounting.

103) C

The proprietary fund statements include the Statement of Net position, Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Fund Net Position and Statement of Cash Flows which are prepared using the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting.

104) B

Internal services funds do not follow the procedures described for major funds. Governments with more than one internal service fund combine the funds into one column for the Statement of Net Position. Detailed financial statements for each internal service fund are included in the other supplementary information. Proprietary fund financial statements include a Statement of Net Position, Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Fund Net Position, and Statement of Cash Flows.

105) A

Fiduciary fund statements include the Statement of Fiduciary Net Position and the Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Position and are prepared using the economic resource measurement focus and accrual accounting.

106) C

Fiduciary funds are not included in the government-wide statement; they are included with the fund basis financial statements. Custodial funds prepare both a Statement of Fiduciary Net Position and a Statement of changes in Fiduciary Net Position.

107) B

Long-term liability for revenue bonds would be found in the government wide Statement of Net Position and the proprietary funds Statement of Net Position.

108) C

A budgetary comparison schedule is required for the General Fund and each major special revenue fund that has a legally adopted budget.

109) B

RSI appears in two parts of the financial section; MD&A precedes the financial statements and other RSI schedules follow the notes to the financial statements. The auditor's report and financial statements are not RSI.

110) B

A Statement of Cash Flows is not required for Government-wide statements. Prior year data is optional, depreciation is allocated according to function and fiduciary activities are not included in the government-wide statements.

111) A

Enterprise funds use the economic resources measurement focus and the accrual basis of accounting which is the same as the government-wide statements.

112) A

The financial section is audited. MD&A and the statistical section are not audited.

113) C

The statistical section typically presents ten years of information in each table or schedule.

114) C

The CAFR has three major sections: introductory, financial and statistical.

115) C

Proprietary funds must prepare the following: Statement of Net Position, Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Fund Net Position and Statement of Cash Flows.

116) D

A budgetary comparison schedule is required of the General Fund and each major special revenue fund that has a legally adopted budget.

117) A

Government-wide financial statements include the Government-wide Statement of Net Position and the Government-wide Statement of Activities. The Statement of Cash Flows is not required.

118) B

The government-wide statements use the accrual basis of accounting. Fund basis statements use the modified accrual basis of accounting.

119) A

The statement of cash flows is only required for proprietary funds.

120) D

Any event that is significant to understanding and interpreting the financial statements should be described in the notes. Outstanding encumbrances, the definition of cash and cash equivalents used in the statement of cash flows for proprietary funds, interfund receivables and payables would all be required.

121) C

GASB standards provide two methods for including component unit financial information with that of the primary government; blending and discrete presentation.

122) C

RSI includes MD&A, information required when using the modified approach to infrastructure, budgetary comparison schedule, pension schedules and schedules of risk management activities.

123) D

The Statement of Cash Flows for a proprietary fund is prepared using the direct method. The statement has four categories and investment income is recorded as an investing activity.

124) A

A complete CAFR presents combining statements to reflect its nonmajor funds whenever a nonmajor column is used in one of the fund statements.

125) B

The statement of cash flows is only required for proprietary funds.

126) A

Government-wide financial statements include the Government-wide Statement of Net Position and the Government-wide Statement of Activities. The Statement of Cash Flows is not required.

127) A

The three major sections of a CAFR are the Introductory, Financial, and Statistical sections.

128) C

Governmental funds, other than the general fund, are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions are met: 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined.

129) C

The General Fund is always a major fund. Governmental funds, other than the general fund, are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions are met: 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined.

130) D

GASB provides guidance for determining when a primary government should include a legally separate organization in its financial report. First the relationship with the entity must have one of the following characteristics: (1) the primary government controls a voting majority of the other organization's governing board or otherwise may impose its will on the organization; or (2) the other organization is fiscally dependent upon the primary government. An entity is fiscally dependent on a primary government if that government approves or modifies its budget, sets charges for its services, or if the government's approval is required to issue debt. In addition, the related organization must represent a financial benefit or burden to the primary government.

131) In addition to MD&A, RSI requires schedules for the following: Schedule when the modified approach to infrastructure is used, budgetary comparison schedule, pension schedules, and schedules of risk management activities.

132) Government-wide statements include the Statement of Net Position and the Statement of Activities.

133) The governmental fund financial statements include the Balance Sheet, and the Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Changes in Fund Balances.

134) Proprietary fund financial statements include a Statement of Net Position, Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Fund Net Position, and Statement of Cash Flows.

135) Fiduciary fund statements include the Statement of Fiduciary Net position, Statement of Changes in Fiduciary Net Position. The Statement of Cash Flows is not required for fiduciary funds.

136) In addition to government-wide statements, governments are required to prepare fund financial statements for governmental, proprietary and fiduciary funds.

137) The five categories of fund balance on a Governmental Funds Balance Sheet Non-spendable are: restricted, committed, assigned and unassigned.

138) The five categories outlined in GASB to be included in the statistical section of the CAFR. are: financial trends information, revenue capacity information, debt capacity information, demographic and economic information and operating information.

139) The three major sections are introductory, financial and statistical. The introductory section includes a letter of transmittal, organization chart, and list of principal officials. The financial section includes the auditor's report, MD&A, the basic financial statements (including the footnotes), other RSI, combining statements for non-major funds (not reported separately in the basic financial statements), and schedules. The statistical section includes certain statistical tables indicating financial trends, revenue and debt capacity, demographic and economic information and operating information. Data is generally presented for the past 10 years.

140) The general fund is always considered to be a major fund. Other governmental funds are considered to be a major fund when both of the following conditions exist; 1) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund constitute 10% of the total for the governmental funds category and 2) Total assets, liabilities, revenues or expenditures of that individual government fund are 5% of the total of the governmental and enterprise categories, combined. In addition, a government may designate any fund as a major fund if reporting that fund separately would be useful.

141) RSI appears in two parts of the financial section; MD&A precedes the financial statements and other RSI schedules follow the notes to the financial statements. In addition to MD&A, Budgetary comparison schedules, Information about infrastructure assets reporting using the modified approach, Pension funding schedules and Schedules of risk management activities are areas where GASB requires RSI.

142) 1. A primary government is a state or a general-purpose local government, such as a municipality or a county. It may also be a special purpose government that has a separately elected governing board, is legally separate, and is fiscally independent of other state or local governments. A component unit is a legally separate organization for which the elected officials of a primary government are financially accountable. In addition, a component unit can be another organization for which the nature and significance of its relationship with a primary government are such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity's financial statements to be misleading or incomplete. An example of a primary government would be a city. An example of a component unit might be a library that is legally separate and has its own board but is financially dependent on the city.

2. The two methods are blending and discrete presentation. Blending is the reporting of a component unit in the government-wide financial statements as a part of the primary government. Blending is appropriate only when the component unit is “so intertwined with the primary government that they are in substance the same entity”. Discrete presentation involves presenting financial information of the component in a separate column apart from the primary government and not included in the totals for the primary government. Discrete presentation is the most commonly used method.

3. In this case, I would recommend that the transit system be incorporated as a component unit based on the idea that “exclusion would cause the reporting entity's financial statements to be misleading or incomplete.” The Statement of Activities would show the operating loss of the transit system and the transfer from the primary government to make up the deficit. I would report it discretely, not blended, as the transit system is generally separate.

143) A primary government is a state government, a general-purpose local government such as a city or county, or a special-purpose government such as a school district. Component units are legally separate organizations for which the elected officials of the primary government are financially accountable. In addition, a component unit can be an organization for which the nature and significance of its relationship with a primary government are such that exclusion would cause the reporting entity's financial statements to be misleading or incomplete.

144) GASB provides guidance for determining when a primary government should include a legally separate organization in its financial report. First the relationship with the entity must have one of the following characteristics: (1) the primary government controls a voting majority of the other organization's governing board or otherwise may impose its will on the organization; or (2) the other organization is fiscally dependent upon the primary government. An entity is fiscally dependent on a primary government if that government approves or modifies its budget, sets charges for its services, or if the government's approval is required to issue debt. In addition, the related organization must represent a financial benefit or burden to the primary government. A financial burden exists, for example, if the primary government is responsible for liabilities of the other organization. In contrast, a financial benefit exists if the government is entitled to or may access the other organization's resources.
