

EXAM 9

Question 1

5 / 5 pts

Multiple Choice

Redistribution of body fat with round moon face, dorsal “buffalo hump,” and relatively thin extremities suggests which of the following:

- Addison disease
- Diabetes mellitus
- Cushing syndrome
- Hypothyroidism

Question 2

5 / 5 pts

Multiple Choice:

The following are common signs and symptoms of Cushing syndrome EXCEPT:

-

Hypoglycemia

Mood changes

Muscle weakness

Amenorrhea

Question 3

0 / 5 pts

Multiple Choice:

Each of the following are treatments of Addison's disease EXCEPT?

Hormone therapy for life

Regular mealtimes

Correct Answer

ACE inhibitors

Higher dose of hormones during stress

Question 4

5 / 5 pts

Multiple Choice:

Addison's disease is due to which of the following:

Adrenal gland dysfunction

Decreased ACTH stimulation from the pituitary

Decreased CRH from the hypothalamus

All of the above

None of the above

Question 5

2.5 / 2.5 pts

An endocrine hormone is released into circulation to act on a target organ.

True

False

Question 6

2.5 / 2.5 pts

A paracrine action occurs when a hormone exerts an action on the cells that produced it.

True

False