

All Mental Health Final EXAM 2022 A+ GRADED

Question: 1 of 50

CORRECT!

SHOW HINT

A nurse is preparing to administer a benzodiazepine to a client who has generalized anxiety disorder. The nurse should tell the client to expect which of the following adverse effects?

- Sedation

Question: 2 of 50

CORRECT!

SHOW HINT

A nurse on an acute care unit is providing postoperative care to an older adult client who develops delirium. Which of the following actions should the nurse take?

- Request a prescription for an antianxiety medication.

CORRECT!

My Answer

Question: 3 of 50

Tir

SHOW HINT

A nurse is obtaining a client's medical history prior to scheduling the client for electroconvulsive therapy (ECT). Which of the following findings should the nurse identify as a potential complication of the procedure?

- Severe depression
- Cardiac arrhythmia
- Bipolar disorder
- Parkinson's disease

Question: 4 of 50

SHOW HINT

A nurse is developing a plan of care for a client who has anorexia nervosa. The nurse should identify that which of the following actions is contraindicated for this client?

- Explaining that tube feedings are necessary if the client refuses oral intake
- Weighing the client each day prior to any oral intake
- Permitting the client to spend some quiet time alone after each meal
- Refraining from commenting about the client's eating during meal times

Question: 5 of 50

INCORRECT

Time Elapsed: 00:13

SHOW HINT

TOOLS

FLAG

A nurse is caring for a client who has alcohol use disorder. Following alcohol withdrawal, which of the following medications should the nurse expect to administer to the client during maintenance?

- Methadone

INCORRECT

The nurse should expect to administer methadone to the client who has opioid withdrawal.

- Disulfiram

CORRECT

The nurse should expect to administer disulfiram as a deterrent to prevent future use of alcohol. The nurse must ensure that the client has not had any alcohol intake for at least 12 hr prior to administration.

Question: 6 of 50

SHOW HINT

A nurse is caring for a newly admitted client who is receiving treatment for alcohol use disorder. The client tells the nurse, "I have not had anything to drink for 6 hours." Which of the following findings should the nurse expect during alcohol withdrawal?

Low body temperature

Insomnia

Muscle flaccidity

Bradycardia

Question: 7 of 50

 CORRECT!

SHOW HINT

A nurse is evaluating the plan of care for a client who has antisocial personality disorder. Which of the following client actions indicates that he is making progress with the treatment? (Select all that apply.)

Assisting another client who has depression to fill out a menu

Nominating himself to chair the client government meeting

Requesting a weekend pass to go home

Serving as the judge for a unit talent show

Informing the nurse that the staff provides excellent care to clients

Question: 8 of 50

SHOW HINT

A nurse is caring for a client who has depression. The client states, "I am too tired and depressed to attend group therapy today." Which of the following responses should the nurse make?

- "Attending group therapy, even if you're tired, is an important part of your treatment."
- "That's okay if you're too tired to attend group therapy today, but you will have to go tomorrow."
- "It is normal to feel tired when you're feeling depressed. The others in group therapy also feel this way."
- "I agree with your decision to wait for participation in group therapy until you begin to feel better."

Question: 9 of 50

...

SHOW HINT

A nurse is assessing a client who experienced a sexual assault 6 months ago. Which of the following findings should the nurse report to the provider as an indication of rape-trauma syndrome?

- Flat affect
- Refusal to accept help from others
- Report of intense guilt
- Denial of the sexual assault

Question: 10 of 50

SHOW HINT

A nurse is caring for a client who has schizophrenia. The nurse notices that the client is pacing up and down the hall very rapidly and muttering in an angry manner. Which of the following actions should the nurse take first?

- Apply mechanical restraints to the client.
- Administer PRN haloperidol IM to the client.
- Approach the client in a nonthreatening manner.
- Place the client in seclusion.

Question: 11 of 50

SHOW HINT

A nurse in an acute mental health facility is leading a nursing staff discussion about the legal aspects of involuntary admissions. Which of the following information should the nurse include?

- A client who is involuntarily admitted must take prescribed medications.
- An involuntary admission of a client is limited to 2 weeks.
- A client who is involuntarily admitted can leave the facility against medical advice.
- An involuntary admission is justified if the client is a danger to others.

